THE CRIME AGAINST NEWBERRY

It would be hard to imagine anything more discreditable to the administration at Washington than the travesty which has just been concluded in Michigan, where Truman E. Newberry has just been convicted of violation of the federal "corrupt practices" election law and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

Newberry did not deny that he violated the so-called law. He affirmed that he violated it, and that he had a right to violate it, because it is no law, but a transparent attempt to deprive a citizen of the United States of his constitutional right to aspire to public office. And the majority of American citizens will agree with him that the administration would not have made any attempt to enforce the "law" if it had not been determined that nobody should be elected Senator from Michigan but Henry Ford whom Mr. Wilson had hand-picked for the job.

The White House was determined to "get" Newberry from the moment the people chose him in preference to Ford and the so-called "corrupt practices" law was the means employed. The preposterous enactment does not stop with prohibiting bribery; it was not needed for that. It undertakes to say that no candidate for United States Senator shall spend or knowingly permit others to spend in his campaign a sum exceeding $3,700.

In a state like Michigan that prohibits his giving bare newspaper notice to the voters that he is a candidate. The smallest leaflet he could print or the smallest "ad" he could insert in the papers announcing himself would cost much more than $3,700 in Michigan and a still larger sum in great states such as Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois or New York. If his candidacy represented some great principle or issue which he wished to bring adequately to the notice of the millions of voters in one of the big states he could spend a fund ten times or twenty times or thirty times $3,700, or allow the other believers in the principles to raise and spend it in the campaign and spend every dollar of it in enlightening the voters not in corrupting them.

Of course if a man has a great political machine backing him as the Wilson federal machine backed Ford he doesn't need to get his case before the people by means of newspapers or other printed literature. But a man fighting the Wilson federal machine and the Ford business machine combined as Newberry and his Republican friends were, required a very considerable campaign fund. They raised it and spent it, and spent it for proper purposes, for all the evidence showed. If the higher courts do not rule that they were within their constitutional rights in so doing they will give machine organization politics the biggest boost and independent political candidacy of every sort the worst black eye that either has ever received in all our political history.

In short, the "law" which the administration is trying to use to punish Newberry for beating its pet "Hen" Ford is a law to promote and encourage political corruption, not a law to prevent it. There is not a machine or "gang" anywhere which, if it properly understood the matter would not be for it.

Asid from the viciousness of the law itself, the public cannot overlook the fact that while Henry Ford was sending delegations of pacifists and Socialists to Europe on peace trips and the administration itself was telling the world that the German and our future allies were fighting for the same thing, Truman Newberry was a clear-sighted patriot who knew that at the proper time the American people would do their duty and his own sons would do their share, as he himself did in the Spanish war, in which he commanded an American warship. To have a man of this stamp railroaded to prison under a sham law by an administration which would not be in power today and never would have been in power if there had been either in 1912 or 1916 an honest and lawful election or a constitutional apportionment in the southern states, is to commit a shocking outrage in the pretense of seeking justice.—Pittsburgh Press.

A SOLDIER RECOGNIZED
Col. Asher Miner, of Wilkes-Barre, who left a large part of one of his legs on the battlefield at Apremont during the world war, will head the Pennsylvania delegates at large to the coming Republican National convention. He is the choice of Senator Penrose for the distinction. The two are warm personal and political friends.

Col. Miner is just 59 years of age. Every possible effort was made by the war machine at Washington to prevent his going to France, but he compelled recognition of his military worth and went abroad in command of the regiment with which he had been associated for 30 years. He served on the Mexican border and when he returned from France was declared to be the "most battered up soldier that came back from the war." He lost the lower half of his left leg in action and bears a deep scar from his mouth almost to his left ear, and his right arm is badly scarred. He is regarded as the hero of the Keaton Division, was given a distinguished service cross and after the armistice was cited by General Pershing for meritorious conduct in action.

SQUARE-TOLD FACTS ABOUT NATIONAL GUARD

By William C. Sproul
Governor of Pennsylvania

It should not be necessary to urge young men of Pennsylvania to enlist this week in the savings units of the celebrated Twenty-eighth Division. The record of the Twenty-eighth speaks for itself. On the Mexican border it was a man-sized division of man-sized men; and it did a man-sized job. Now we are reorganizing it as Pennsylvania's Division of the National Guard, following the mustering out by the Federal authorities. We are asking 15,200 men to enlist. Traditions of this division are such that ten times that many men should be anxious to uphold them.

Harrisburg, March 23.—Springfield rifles of the utterly-famous 1903 model will be supplied the infantrymen in the reorganized Pennsylvania National Guard. Enlistments in the various units of the Twenty-eighth Division are being made this week. Considered by nearly every rifle expert as one of the most accurate rifles in the world, the Springfield was the favorite of the men of the American Expeditionary force. When the United States entered the war practically every arms-making establishment in the country was making the 1917 Enfield, the official rifle of the British army. Few Springfields were being made. To save time the War Department ordered Enfields for the bulk of American troops.

But the Americans showed preference for the American rifle. Some of the troops had been equipped with the limited supply of 1903 Springfields. Whenever a Yankee had an opportunity to seize a Springfield he did so, dropping the Enfield like a hot potato.

So pronounced was this preference that after an engagement in the Argonne it was reported that of a detachment of 3,600 men which went into battle armed with Enfields, eighty percent came out carrying Springfields. The Enfield is easier to handle, but the Americans insisted on mastering the Springfield, inasmuch as it is more accurate and a harder hitter.

Announcement by Adj. Gen. Frank P. Beary that the 1903 Springfield will be the official rifle of the new guard will strike sentiment among the hundreds of former members who are making haste to re-enlist in the Twenty-eighth. Just as the artillerymen were pleased to learn that they will get back their old field pieces, so the infantryman is glad to know he will get back his favorite Springfield.

Enlistments this week are very heavy.

Are we respectful as the flag passes by, and particularly when it precedes the cortege of a soldier? In the coming years we will have many opportunities to prove or disprove the remarks of a local pastor on this subject.

WOMAN MAIL CARRIER AT CANONSBURG OFFICE

Mrs. Margaret J. Hoover on Monday morning began carrying mail on rural route No. 2 from the Canonsburg post office, which has been without a carrier since the resignation recently of John G. Daugherty. This makes two of the three rural routes from the Canonsburg office carried by women. Miss Rose Bush for several years has made the trips over rural route No. 1.

Jesse L. Lasky presents

WALLACE REID in "THE VALLEY OF THE GIANTS"

Giants even in these days! Mighty men of the lumber camps. Fighting men, with hearts to love and strong arms to protect their own. A picture of the redwood slopes, of the clash of dauntless builders of the new West. Pungent with the tang of towering forests. Filled with the stuff that makes the blood run red.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S RIGHT

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps to Make Women Normal.

Washington, Ind.—"I was in such a condition that I never expected to have children and my aunt advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It proved my health and restored a normal condition of my system so that I have a fine baby. Until she was about a year old I was very nervous and all the time I was something terrible was going to happen. If I heard anyone coming I would beat fast and I wanted to run. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and it helped me wonderfully. You may publish my letter as the medicine is surely great."—MRS. I. A. BANTA, R. R. No. 4, Box 24, Washington, Ind.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its ability to correct sterility in many cases. This fact is well established as evidenced by the above letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

In Loving Remembrance

Of our loved one Mrs. Catherine Vignullo (Catherine Palfrey) who died one year ago today, March 24, 1919. Oh, dearest, sweetest daughter, since you have passed away, it seems not one year ago. But only yesterday. When evening shadows are falling, and we're sitting alone. In my heart there comes a longing, if you only could come home. Off and off my thought do wonder to a grave not far away where they laid my dearly loved one just one year ago today. Sadly missed by her mother, father, husband, child, sisters and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Palfrey. 247-t1-p

TWO CENTS

RENTING PROBLEM IS QUITE A SERIOUS ONE IN CHARLEROI

Scarcity of Houses Makes It Difficult to Get Living Quarters

RENTS ARE BEING INCREASED

Charleroi is not the only town where a shortage of houses is disturbing the dreams of those who are compelled to rent places where they may live. Conditions are bad enough here in this respect, and there appears to be no signs of improvement as the first of April, the annual "fitting" day, draws nigh.

It is a question if the housing condition in Charleroi was ever as serious as it is at the present time. The same can be said of other towns in this section of the valley. In fact it prevails throughout all parts of western Pennsylvania. Over in Belle Vernon the citizens are making a great effort to find accommodations for 300 additional workmen and their families. So far they have been reasonably successful in finding rooms, but this does not solve the housing problem. As a matter of fact, there has been but little building in this part of the valley for a number of years, and unless there is some activity in this respect and very soon, the problem of securing houses for tenants will be more acute in the future than ever.

Washington, the county seat, is in a like position and it is estimated that at least 300 new dwellings are required there to meet the demand. It is believed the same number could be used in Charleroi if they were only available. However, they are not. Many of our people have been house-hunting for weeks, but so far only a few of them have even got a promise.

As a consequence of this condition there appears to be a movement on the part of property owners to increase the rent of their tenants. While these increases, in some cases at least, are not so very heavy, yet at the same time they are adding to the cost of living of those in rented houses. It is a serious problem which confronts the community and one that should receive serious consideration on the part of our civic organizations.

MONTOUR MAY BUILD SPUR TO B. & O.

A branch railroad, five miles in length, may be built to connect the Montour and the B. & O. The spur, according to current reports, would extend from a point on the Montour line near the Peters township school at McMurray to the B. & O. at Gillespie station. Surveys for the projected line were made some time ago by engineers for the Montour Railroad company, and right of way men have lately been at work. The road would primarily be for the transportation of coal, and a rich tract lying between McMurray and Gillespie would be opened. It is expected that work on the line will be started this year.

RESPOND TODAY TO NEAR EAST RELIEF

Today Charleroi is giving expression to the highest teaching of life, that it is our duty to heal the sick, clothe the naked and relieve the distress of our neighbors. The man and woman who will call at our door today will appeal to the best in us. Louder and louder comes the piteous call for help and The Near East Relief campaign today and tomorrow will afford an opportunity for every citizen to help his neighbor. Before another harvest can be gathered starvation and disease will take a terrible toll of death among the Armenians. Howard Heinz of Pittsburgh, who recently returned from Armenia, said, "150 are dying daily; whole districts are without proper clothing and nourishment, and the death rate will increase rather than diminish."

Charleroi is noted for her open-handed generosity and we are sure that the present call will meet a ready response from our citizens.

TIME SAVER IN HANDLING COKE

Something new in the way of handling coal and coke will be put into operation in the very near future for the Pittsburgh Steel company. This company is building a steel barge measuring approximately 340 feet in length and 35 feet in width, with a set of conveyer running lengthwise of the barge which will unload and pass to another conveyer at their plant in Monessen. This will be a wonderful time-saver in the handling of fuel. The barge is being built at the steel company's marine ways at the Alicia mine above Brownsville.

FAYETTE STREAMS TO GET CARLOAD OF TROUT

Approximately 150 cans of fingerling trout will be shipped to Connellsville this week from the Federal hatcheries, according to word received there by a local angler. This will comprise one whole carload of young brook trout and will be used in stocking streams of the Indian creek valley. Later another carload will be shipped for other trout streams in Fayette county. Streams in that county are favorite resorts for trout fishers from Charleroi and when the season opens which it will within a few weeks, quite a number of anglers are expected to whip the streams throughout that section.

Because of coal and coke shortage due to inadequate supply, six blast furnaces in the Mahoning valley are banked or blown out. Other departments in some of the mills in that district are also down because of the lack of fuel.

ASSOCIATED DOCTORS' OFFICES STILL CLOSED

There have been no new developments with reference to the Associated Doctors, whose offices on McKean avenue were closed Monday afternoon by the local Board of Health. John Hornack, who was in the rooms at the time they were closed, says he did none of the practicing, he was employed as janitor and to distribute circulars and is now waiting to collect his last week's wages.

The office and equipment is said to be owned by Dr. Marquard, whose address is given as Room 205, No. 740 W. Madison street, Chicago. Dr. Cameron went to Pittsburgh on Tuesday to meet him, as the Chicago physician had promised to be here on that day and it is presumed Dr. Cameron wished to advise him of what had taken place here.

It is said the equipment in the office is of the very best, and that the location here is one of many that has been established throughout the country.

Friday evening the Charleroi High School Girls' basketball team will play the Ellsworth Girls' Five at the high school gym. This is the last game of the season and it will surely be a game worth seeing. Early in the season the local team was defeated by the Ellsworth team by only two points, and in order to prove that they are the superiors of the Ellsworth girls they intend defeating the visitors decisively. The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

RESTRICTION ON COAL TO BE REMOVED

This announcement made by President Wilson on Tuesday that price control of coal would be abandoned on the first of April, will be received with considerable satisfaction by coal operators in the Monongahela valley. On that date the new working agreement between the miners and the operators will become effective. The new agreement will permit at last part absorption in coal prices of the increase in miners' wages established at 27 per cent by the commission majority report. The increase in wages, the commission estimated will entail an added annual cost of $200,000,000 and includes the 14 per cent increase awarded the miners in settling the recent strike.

Under the new arrangement operators will be permitted to charge more for their coal to consumers than at any time since 1917, when the government assumed price control. Operators have been restive for many months under the restrictions imposed by the government, particularly as in many cases they were offered more than the government price for their output. After April 1st they will be permitted to operate without restriction, although the President has warned them against profiteering.

SACRED MUSIC ON GOOD FRIDAY

Professor Daniel and Mrs. Kinder the organist of St. Mary's Episcopal Church are organizing a special choir of well known local singers to render some sacred Passion music on Good Friday night. The music chosen is "The Crucifixion" by Stainer. It is thought that many in the community would be glad to spend Good Friday evening in church listening to music of this type. It will be sung in St. Mary's Episcopal church and further particulars will be given later.

Lenten Services at the Lutheran Church this evening. Time 7:30. Dr. J. Eugene Dietterich will deliver the sermon. Brotherhood choir will sing.
